

APRIL 2017

VIKINGS OF THE SMOKIES

WWW.TNVIKINGS.ORG

Fra Presidenten,

Our April Lodge event featured a spring buffet, tusen takk to everyone who attended and thank you to our visitors - I hope that you enjoyed the Lodge and will consider attending our next Lodge event - and hopefully join Sons of Norway.

Takk to Dee Bumpers who continued our ongoing book discussion series by presented Chapter 4 of "Between Rock and Hard Places", which discussed the Norwegian farms and farmers.

Syttende Mai is our next event and I hope that everyone will be able to join us on Sunday, May 21st in Maryville. This is one of most popular events and we encourage you to bring your Norwegian flags if you have them. This is a rain or shine event.

Takk to Linda and Francis Turmo who are hosting the Lodge at the pavilion at Asbury Place. This relaxing afternoon will celebrate Norway's Independence Day and, as in Norway, VOTS will have our own parade and picnic, along with members of the Trollkretsen Dancers!

A reminder that while the Lodge will be taking a break for the summer months, with no month Lodge events from June through August - members will still remain active with a variety of activities. The baking and cooking demonstrations will continue through the summer.

And, of course, we will pull out the "Viking Ship" and participate in the Farragut Independence Day Parade on July 4th!

Norwegian Constitution Day is the official National Day of Norway, celebrated on the 17th of May. Among Norwegians, the day is referred to simply as "Syttende Mai" (17th of May) or Grunnlovsdagen (The Constitution Day)

A noteworthy aspect of Norwegian Constitution Day is its very non-military nature. All over Norway, children parade with an abundance of flags. Each elementary school district arranges its own parade with marching bands between schools. The parade takes the children through the community, often making stops at homes of senior citizens, war memorials, etc.

The longest parade is in Oslo, where some 100,000 people travel to participate in the festivities. The Oslo parade includes close to 100 schools, marching bands, and passes by the Royal Palace, where the Royal Family greet the people from the main balcony.

Friday night is “taco night” in Norway

Many Norwegians start off each weekend with a taco, also known as the fredagstaco

When it comes to Friday’s dinner plans, Norwegians seem to have one thing on their minds: tacos! The younger generations in Norway have coined the term “fredagstaco” to describe the cultural phenomenon of starting the weekend off with a serving—or two—of tacos.

And participation in fredagstaco seems to be on the rise. Up to one million Norwegians are enjoying their Mexican fare on any given Friday this year, according to side2.no.

You might be thinking, why tacos? The flavorful Mexican dish seems a far cry from meat and boiled potatoes. It is easy, quick, and something the whole family likes. Each family member can put whatever they like in their taco and steer clear of what they don’t like. It is a social dish because one sits at the table longer and makes their own food,” explains Trond Svendgård, chef at Flying Culinary Circus and author of “Taco på uno, dos, tres.”

Many Norwegians are content to stick with the tried-and-true taco each weekend, but the current trend is an emphasis on innovative and nutritious creations.

Just by searching #fredagstaco on Instagram, you’ll find over a thousand posts depicting countless versions of the Norwegian taco.

Norway Flag Facts

Red with a blue cross outlined in white that extends to the edges of the flag; the vertical part of the cross is shifted to the hoist side in the style of the Dannebrog (Danish flag);

The colors recall Norway's past political unions with Denmark (red and white) and Sweden (blue).
